UPDATE ON SAN CARLOS APACHE DORY HINTON FAMILY. Dory passed away last month without having had the second bone marrow transplant. His family expresses their appreciation to the community for thanksgiving, prayers and financial support. The Apache tradition of burning and burying every thing used by the deceased is now being carried out by the Hinton family. They have had to replace everything in the household. Whatever funds were left from the online auction and other fund raising to help support them is now being used to replace furniture, dishes, bedding etc. The congregation of All Saints, Safford has assisted them in locating many items through yard sales, etc. On behalf of the Hinton family and All Saints, Safford, I personally thank you all for your ongoing support during the last year.
