

INPUT FOR THE QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER – “THE MESSENGER”

It's time to begin to think about the newsletter for the first quarter of 2008. I realize this might seem a little early for most people but we want to have everyone, old and young alike, to think about this newsletter and let's make it a “big success”.

We know what the religious calendar will look like but we want to put some news in about everyone. If you're a family that has children we want to hear about activities your children are in outside of church and especially if they have a success story. We also want to hear about those children and parents that are involved in activities such as scouts. Are there upcoming events that we as a church can participate in? For the older generation is there an activities that you're involved in that has up coming events that we can participate in or support.

A news item that might be exciting is to ask your family if there is a special tradition that you partake in for Thanksgiving or Christmas that you would like to share. Ask the young people to think about what the holidays mean to them and have them write this down so we can share it with everyone.

Now, for the springtime we want to know of all the activities everyone is participating in and the dates these will take place. Give a little history about the activity and why it has become such a wonderful tradition in this city: i.e., Cowboy Poetry, the Garden Club, the Art Society, etc. We want to especially know of those individuals involved in these activities.

For the all groups, young and old, in the church we want to hear from you to let us know of your upcoming events in the first quarter or 2008. Also, if there is a special person you want to recognize let us know.
